

Remote Guarding

Also, by combining remote guarding with on-site officers, we can cover a larger area constantly for a fraction of the cost. Efficient detection and ability to provide emergency response is the number one reason why our clients choose to include some kind of remote surveillance in addition to on-site guards. It gives our clients 24x7 security on a broader area and helps reduce overhead.

Already have cameras installed?
No problem!

Most IP cameras can be configured to work with our control centers. Ask your representative about how remote surveillance can help mitigate risks at your location.
